

THE WASHINGTON CHURCHES

Trend of Things.

In a report to the general conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church it was stated that New York has 300,000 windowless rooms!

Many church people are thinking of the centennial of the arrival of Adoniram Judson in India, and the opening of mission work there, which occurs late in 1912. Parties are already being made up in this country to go to India and participate in the celebration, for which missionaries on the field and the societies at home are preparing.

During the year ended March 31, 1912, 1,555,000 volumes of Scriptures were put into circulation in the United States by the American Bible Society. Of this number 1,274,787 were in English, for the most part inexpensive editions and were sold without profit or given away. The five books for the Sunday school lessons of 1913, Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers and Deuteronomy, are separately bound.

People who magnify the mistakes and shortcomings of American labor unions may note with satisfaction that the labor movement in America is apparently more ethical than it is in Great Britain, where strikes on an enormous scale have just been fought and won on the declared principle of maintaining for the engineers "the right to get drunk."

Dr. G. Campbell Morgan, of London, intends to pay another visit to this country in February.

In eighty public schools of Kansas City will soon be hung framed tablets of the Ten Commandments. Teaching of the Bible is forbidden, but when it was found that this arrangement would be the law, representatives of many faiths helped the Daughters of the American Revolution to put their plan through.

In connection with the sixth annual Farmers' Week at Cornell University in February will be held the New York State Country Church Conference. The general subject will be "The Country Church and the Country Community." Prof. Hoyt, of Auburn Seminary, will talk on the "Educational Value of the Church." Rev. J. B. Sherman, of the "Country Church and Social and Recreational Conditions." Drew Seminary's professor of sociology, Mr. Earp, will consider community voluntary organizations.

Not all the significant temperance news comes out of prohibition and anti-liquor headquarters. This time an item comes from the stronghold of the brewers—Milwaukee. The retail liquor dealers of the State are proposing radical legislation, making it a misdemeanor for a brewer to sell to a salaried official in any way. Incidentally they want to limit saloons to one for every 1,000 of population.

Clergymen of this city are being asked by the national child labor committee that they observe January 25 or 26 as child labor day. This is the seventh year that the day will be observed. Last year churches joined in the general demand for a Federal children's bureau as a result of observing the day.

Various Meetings Sunday.

At the Y. M. C. A.
Dean William Allen Wilbur, of the College of Arts and Sciences, of George Washington University, will address the Sunday Afternoon Assembly of the Y. M. C. A. to-morrow on "The Relation of Science to Religion." The assembly, which will be held at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, is open to the public. Edward H. Halbach, Jr., a twelve-year-old soprano, will render several selections. Master Halbach's mother will be his accompanist. A fellowship tea follows the service at 7 o'clock.

Friends to Meet.
The Baltimore quarterly meeting of the Society of Friends will be held in the meeting house at Thirtieth and Irving Streets to-day and Sunday. It will be attended by representatives from Baltimore and Washington, and county meetings in Maryland, Virginia, and the attending delegations will be entertained by the Friends resident in Washington, so that the entire conference will be a social occasion. The quarterly meeting is held in this city in January of each year. Dr. Benjamin F. Troubridge will deliver the address in the evening.

Prayer for Missions.
A special service of prayer for missions in the non-Christian lands was held yesterday morning in the north hall of the Church of the Epiphany, under the auspices of the Woman's Interdenominational Missionary Union. This special day of prayer was chosen by the women's boards of foreign missions at their triennial conference in Philadelphia, and was observed throughout the entire country. Mrs. J. E. Gilbert, of the Methodist Church, presided, and Mrs. O. E. Brown led the devotional service. Rev. Dr. R. H. McKim, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, brought greetings to the women of the different churches gathered for prayer. The program was presided over by Mrs. Birrell, of Washington, and the choir was led by Mrs. W. C. Chang. Mrs. William Chang, of the Chinese educational mission, and Mrs. J. E. Mills, recently returned from an extended tour of China in company with her husband, Rev. Dr. J. N. Mills, of the Presbyterian Church.

Chinese Mission Celebrates.
The committee in charge of the Chinese Christian Union Chapel, 307 John Marshall Place, is planning to celebrate on Sunday at the regular evening service at 8 o'clock the first anniversary of the opening of the chapel, and at the same time the Chinese Christians will observe with thanksgiving the beginning of the second year of the New Republic of China. Invitations in Chinese have been sent out to all the Chinese in the city. Rev. Donald MacLeod, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, representing the advisory board of the chapel, will speak, and prominent Chinese will address their countrymen. The music will be furnished by the Sunday school of the Rhode Island Methodist Protestant Church.

The advisory board includes the following city pastors and laymen: Rev. Charles E. Fritz, Rev. Donald C. MacLeod, D. D., Rev. James Buhrer, D. D., Rev. Edwidge V. Register, Rev. Charles E. Butler, Rev. J. Alvin Campbell, Rev. J. Henning Neime, D. D., Rev. Thomas Hubert-Jones, Rev. Paul Menzel, D. D., Rev. W. A. Melvin, Rev. J. O. Baker, D. D., Rev. J. Milton Waldron, D. D., Rev. James Trimble, D. S. Shook, Lester Schmitt, H. V. Easterling, Bruce Cleveland, G. E. Adell, Rexford L. Holmes, president, C. E. Union, W. L. Lee, Gen. president, Y. C. C. A., Mrs. E. Field, superintendent, Metropolitan, H. D. Hubbard, Chinese Sunday school; H. D. Hubbard, superintendent, First Baptist Chinese Sunday school, and A. M. Peyton, superintendent, Church of Ascension, P. E. Chinese Sunday school.

The central committee includes N. K. Gardner, chairman; Mrs. J. N. Culbertson, secretary; Mrs. Washington Topham, treasurer; Mrs. L. M. Zeller, Francis K. MacNab, H. D. Hubbard, and F. A. Frost.

Disciples.

Change in control of the Christian Century, the most progressive organ of the Disciples, just announced, is not without wide interest and significance. The ownership is to be transferred from private hands into a newly formed and non-profit-making corporation, the Disciples Publishing Society. The method of administration, rather than a private corporation, will incline to a large and representative group chosen from those who are recognized as leaders in denominational affairs.

The announcement of the innovation has brought to C. C. Morrison, who has shared with Prof. H. L. Willett the aggressive leadership in editorial policies, a great number of commendatory letters, representing leaders, laymen, and college presidents of the denomination. Three chief convictions are declared to have inspired the innovation. The desirability "from every point of view, that a religious publishing house and newspaper be owned by a public corporation, rather than a private corporation, the lack of a thoroughly representative Disciples' paper, and especially the desire for a publishing medium in the field of Christian union."

It is said that the Christian Century has achieved almost a right to assume this position. At least twelve important movements of constructive value have been started in the last few years. Among these pioneer contentions may be cited: The reorganization plan of the national convention, utilization of missionary societies, the Christian Century, and attitude in Bible study, the reform of evangelism, social service, and the great cause of Christian union.

At the Ninth Street Christian Church on next Tuesday night the Disciples Union of the city will be addressed by Rev. W. Thornton, of Cincinnati, Ohio. The address will be on the general work of the Bible School, of which Mr. Thornton is a specialist and an authority. This is a public meeting and all are invited to attend.

On Wednesday night the men of the church will have their annual banquet under the auspices of the Bureau Bible Class. Mr. Thornton will be the chief speaker at this banquet.

At the Ninth Street Christian Church Sunday morning, Rev. George A. Miller will continue the series of sermons on "The Divine Library," taking for his subject the second book of Samuel.

Rev. Dr. A. McLean, president of the Foreign Christian Missionary Society, will speak at the Vermont Avenue Christian Church Sunday evening at 7:30.

Methodist

Bishop Lewis, of Fochow, China, will preach in Foundry Methodist Episcopal Church on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. The subject is "The Seventh Year of the Chinese Republic." The lecture will be held under the auspices of the Epworth League. There is no charge for admission, but a silver offering will be taken.

The sermon at Hamilton to-morrow morning by the pastor, Rev. Joseph M. Gray, will be on "The Discernment of Life." In the evening the subject will be "Our Motives." During the month of January the ladies of Hamilton have charge of the support of the Deaconess Home. Donations of food and articles for the home are invited. The collection will be taken by Mrs. E. D. Godfrey, Mrs. E. T. Cheesman, Mrs. J. W. Davis, Mrs. C. M. Lipp, Mrs. A. J. Paine, and Mrs. J. R. Mickle.

Bishop Lewis is announced to speak at the Metropolitan Memorial Methodist Church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. At 8 o'clock Dr. Montgomery will give the second sermon in the series, "I Had My Life to Live Over." The special subject will be "Society—Its Fads, Fancies, and Facts."

Bishop Cranston has called the second evangelistic assembly for the group of conferences connected with the Washington Episcopal residence at Epiphany. On Tuesday he will be the guest of honor and a speaker at the annual dinner of the Washington Episcopal Club of Springfield, Mass.

The following musical numbers will be rendered at the First Congregational Church. At the morning service—Organ prelude, Adagio in E flat, by Merckel; anthems, Jubilate in C by Dudley Buck, and The Lord Chord, by Sullivan; quartet, "Gloria in the Clouds," by Housley; organ postlude in G, by Whiting. At the evening service—Organ prelude in E minor, by Battier; anthems, Benedicite in C, by Gadeby, and "Come Unto Me," by Wagner; organ postlude finale in B flat, by Wolstenholme.

The Sunday school institute at Mount Pleasant was voted the most inspiring and informing of years. The speakers were real exponents, and the attendance was just large enough to insure the right kind of discussion. Dr. Littlefield and his co-workers of the Congregational Society make up an ideal group of instructors.

At the annual meeting of the First Congregational Church Thursday night the reports showed a total membership of 1,145, being a net gain during Dr. Woodrow's pastorate of 200. Six thousand dollars were contributed to the various benevolent funds of the church by various societies. Four new deacons were elected. They were Frank W. Carden, J. Homer Smith, Alfred Wood, and Dr. Paul H. Johnson. Roger J. Whitford was made church treasurer, and W. L. Whiting clerk. The reports were unusually encouraging, and the entire meeting was regarded as a high-water mark by one who has followed the church since the old First years. Edwin D. Blanchard was elected superintendent of the Sunday school.

Miss Julia Lathrop, head of the Federal Children's Bureau, was the speaker at the monthly meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society last Wednesday. Years ago in Madison, Wis., Mrs. P. P. Woodbury, now a member of the First Church, was the Sunday school teacher of Miss Lathrop, and the response to the invitation of the society was largely a personal one. She described the work and plans of the new bureau of which she is the head.

DR. McKIM WILL NOT SEEK RE-ELECTION

As foreshadowed in The Washington Herald two weeks ago, as his probable course, formal announcement through the Churchmen of New York by the Rev. Dr. Randolph H. McKim, that he will not stand for re-election as president of the House of Deputies of the General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church, New York, was received in Washington yesterday.

Dr. McKim gives as his reason his opposition to changing the name of the REV. DR. RANDOLPH H. McKIM, church to the American Catholic Church.

Dr. McKim's announcement reads as follows: "To the Editor of the Churchman: 'Will you allow me to state through your columns that I have decided not to allow my name to come before the House of Deputies in October, 1913, in connection with the presidency of that honorable body?'

"Aside from the fact that I shall have filled this distinguished office for nine years by October next, I hold the utmost as the proposal to change the name of the church promises to be an important issue in the convention, and inasmuch as I have, under a strong sense of duty, taken the part of opposing and change, it would not be proper for me to preside over the convention which is to decide this issue, even if it were with the wish of the members of the house that I should do so."

"RANDOLPH H. McKIM, 'President of the House of Deputies.' The rector of one of the most influential churches in Washington, and a leader in the low church party, Rev. Dr. McKim is recognized as one of the ablest churchmen in the country. Washington clergymen who are close to Rev. Dr. McKim yesterday said his announcement had been expected. Rev. Dr. McKim, as president of the House of Deputies, they said, would be handicapped in the debate upon changing the name of the Episcopal Church, whereas, Rev. Dr. McKim on the floor of the House of Deputies will be a tower of strength to the opponents of the change.

Roman Catholic.

Sunday will be Cardinal's Day in Washington. His eminence Cardinal Gibbons will deliver his annual New Year reception to the citizens of this city in New Carroll Hall after the high mass at St. Patrick's Church. Very Rev. George Dougherty, D. D., vice rector of the Catholic University, will be the celebrant of the high mass which will be sung at 10 o'clock. Rev. William Martin, of St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York, will deliver the sermon. The deacon of the mass will be the Rev. George Sauvage, D. D., and Rev. Eugene Burke, S. J. S. C. will serve as sub-deacon. His eminence will be accompanied by the Rev. Dr. Bonaventura Cerretti, secretary to the papal delegate, and Very Rev. R. A. Pace, D. D., of the Catholic University.

Both church and society will render the following programme: "Proper of the Mass," sanctuary choir; "Missa and Gloria" (Haydn), mixed choir and orchestra; "After the Gloria," Ad Regem Pastorem (Gounod), mixed choir and orchestra; "Veni Creator," sanctuary choir; "Credo" (Haydn), mixed choir and orchestra; "Offertory Motet" (Gounod), mixed choir and orchestra; "Benedictus and Agnus Dei" (Haydn), mixed choir and orchestra. After the mass the mixed choir, assisted by the orchestra, will sing "Silent Night" (Dunstable), "Joyful Song" (Ceverini), and "Gloria to God" (Dunstable).

At 10 o'clock the procession of clergy, choir boys and acolytes will leave the doors of the cathedral and march to the front entrance of the church. Immediately after the mass the procession will proceed to Carroll Hall, where the Cardinal will hold his reception to the citizens of Washington. Rev. W. T. Russell, pastor of St. Patrick's, will entertain a number of prominent citizens and the visiting clergy at dinner in his home of 1400 Pennsylvania Avenue at the conclusion of the reception.

The efforts now making by archbishops in some of the foreign countries to bring the Catholic Church's influence to bear upon the stage, the writers of its plays and the managers of their presentations, that the general moral and literary tone may be raised, is a part of a general Catholic movement that has been going on in Europe for some years. It began in France, extended next to Germany, and is now being pushed not only in America but also in Italy and in England.

The purpose of the movement is far wider than that nothing presented on any stage should reflect upon Catholic teaching or tradition. It involves the idea that, as is true, the Catholic Church has always recognized the power of the stage. While long removed from the influence of the church, it is nevertheless great. Paris, Berlin, London, Milan, Lyons, and Frankfurt have led in organizing efforts of Catholics in the directions now taken by archbishops and other prelates in America.

Following a holiday recess, the Woman's Alliance of All Souls' Church resumed their meetings this morning. The subject of the addresses given was "Church and School Buildings as Social Centers." Mr. E. C. Martin, director of playgrounds, spoke of the schools and the wide use they are having throughout the States. He dwelt particularly on the work in the east side of New York City, and in New Jersey, where political meetings are permitted in the school buildings. The bill now pending which provides for the use of school buildings in the District of Columbia was cited and support for the measure asked. Dr. Thomas Jesse Jones spoke in behalf of the Hampton Institute. Mrs. F. W. Clarke was hostess at the luncheon, which followed the formal programme.

Activity of All Souls' have been greatly stimulated by the final action looking toward the new church edifice and its auxiliary facilities for institutional work.

Episcopal.

At the beginning of 1913 various parishes are settled with rectors which were previously pastored.

In Southern Maryland the parishes which have recently welcomed new rectors are as follows: Queen Anne's parish, St. Barnabas' Church, Leonard; Rev. L. Cody Marsh. St. Thomas' parish, St. Thomas' Church, Croome; Rev. C. A. Crisman. All Faith parish, All Faith Church, Rockville; Rev. D. Wellington Curran.

All Saints' parish, All Saints' Church, Oakley; Rev. F. T. Cady. In Montgomery county the parishes similarly situated are these: St. Bartholomew's parish, St. Bartholomew's Church, Olney; Rev. H. H. Matzen. Prince George parish, Christ Church, Rockville; Rev. Thomas A. Haughton-Burke.

St. Peter's parish, St. Peter's Church, Poolesville, has lost its rector, the Rev. R. H. Busby, who has become assistant rector of the Rev. P. H. Howden, rector of St. John's Church, Georgetown. The Poolesville parish is still without a rector.

A new chapel has been established for colored people, served by the Rev. A. D. H. Collier. The chapel is located at the corner of Fourth Street and New York Avenue.

To-morrow the annual Epiphanytide meeting, connected with our Sunday schools will be held as follows: I. Sunday schools in the central section of the city at the Church of the Epiphany at 4 p. m. Speaker, Rev. Pacla Curran, rector of the Virginia Theological Seminary.

II. Sunday schools in the eastern section of the city at St. Mark's Church at 4 p. m. Speaker, Rev. D. W. Curran, rector. III. Sunday schools of the Georgetown and St. Alban's parishes at Christ Church at 4 p. m. Speaker, Rev. D. Wellington Curran.

At the Bethlehem Chapel Mr. Edgar Peck, cathedral organist, will give his seventh organ recital at 5 o'clock to-morrow. Right Rev. Ethelbert Talbot, D. D., Bishop of Bethlehem, Pa., is in the city. Dr. Talbot is on a visit to his brother, Rev. Canon Robert Talbot, rector of St. Paul's Church, Twenty-third Street. He is accompanied by Mrs. Talbot.

For some years the Bishop lived a very strenuous life as the Bishop of Wyoming and Idaho. His name is still a household word in the diocese. He is a very influential figure in the church. He has been a delegate to the national convention of the Episcopal Church, and he has been a member of the House of Bishops.

A very distinguished churchman, Right Rev. Reginald Heber Weller, D. D., of the Episcopal Church, will give his seventh organ recital at 5 o'clock to-morrow. Right Rev. Ethelbert Talbot, D. D., Bishop of Bethlehem, Pa., is in the city.

The Pinkham class at Immanuel Church will have their evening lecture on Tuesday at 8 o'clock. The subject is "The Pinkham Class." The lecturer is Dr. Barker, President of the Pinkham class.

"Man in Modern Affairs" is the title of Pastor Hinson V. Howlett's second sermon on "A Man and His Religion," which he will preach at the Second Church to-morrow morning. The evening service will be held at 7 o'clock.

The Bible school of Immanuel Baptist Church is planning a unique method of doubling its present membership of 500. The school is to be divided into groups composed of thirteen members. Each group is to obtain thirteen new names during 1912, and in this way make good its new motto, "double enrollment for 1912."

Under auspices of the women of the Presbyterian Church of Washington, seven lectures by Rev. Dr. Isaac Taylor Headland, of Pekin, China, are announced. The first will be given in the New York Avenue Church on Monday evening, January 20, at 8 o'clock. The lectures will follow on Tuesday at 11 a. m., and on Mondays and Tuesdays of succeeding weeks at the same hours, respectively, concluding on Monday night, February 18, at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Headland is a veritable live wire. He knows more about the real China, and how to tell it better than any other living man. This is the verdict of men who have heard him. He is the Bishop of China, who declares that he is without equal in the Christian world as a lecturer on China.

Born in Pennsylvania, educated at a free-will school in Ohio, he has for sixteen years been teaching science in the Pekin University. He is a member of the Authors' Club of London and of the Twentieth Century Club of Boston. His subjects include "Child Life in China," "Chinese Women," "America's Part in the Making of China," "Religion and Literature in China," "By-products of Missions," and "Medicine in China."

A reception was tendered Rev. Dr. and Mrs. John Carpenter Palmer last evening in the Sunday school room of the Washington Heights Church. A large company of members of the church and congregation and their invited friends were present. The occasion was interpreted as another evidence of the present happiness of the Washington Heights people in new relations.

General Secretary Cooper spoke before the teachers' meeting at the Church of the Covenant Thursday evening on "Some New Ideas in Teaching the Lesson." Dr. Cooper spoke of the new ideas in teaching the lesson, and of the new ideas in teaching the lesson.

Lutheran.

The Lutheran Church Almanac for 1913 gives the number of Lutheran communicants at 2,307,857, with 3,075,419 baptized. The 1,008 Sunday schools report 9,638 of teachers and teachers, and 67,118 pupils. The Lutheran America gave last year an average of $5.59 per member, or a little over 20 cents a week, for local purposes, and for benevolence $2,909,948, or a little over 2 cents a week for each communicant.

Rev. William A. Wade was installed as pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Eighth and C Streets Southwest, last night. Rev. Luther Waring, formerly installed at the services, Rev. Dr. Charles P. Steck delivered the sermon. Prayer was offered by Rev. John T. Huddle, and Scriptures lesson read by Rev. Robert Schmidt. The charge to the pastor was given by Rev. John C. Bowers.

Exercises celebrating the third anniversary of the organization were held by the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Epiphany in its chapel at New Hampshire Avenue and U Streets Northwest, last Monday evening. After a brief devotion by Rev. George H. Slaybaugh, congratulatory "congratulatory" was given by the Rev. Dr. Charles P. Steck, D. D., of St. Mark's Church, who said that the church was to be proud of a church whose membership had more than doubled during the three years of its existence, and which had been able to purchase its site and build and dedicate its new chapel within five months after the conception of the plan. Mr. A. Y. Leach, Jr., outlined the opportunities ahead and Dr. Steck concluded the address, speaking of the feeling of both the achievement and prospects of the young congregation.

Concordia Church, which is the official church of the German Embassy, and of which Dr. Adolph Menze is pastor, will celebrate the eightieth anniversary of its organization during the present week. Communion services will be held Sunday at 11 o'clock, and on Sunday the 19th, formal anniversary services will be held, with the Rev. C. W. Locher, of Baltimore, as speaker for the German service, and the Rev. E. G. Kuntz, of Baltimore, for the English service in the evening.

Baptist.

Unusual interest and large attendance have marked the special evangelistic services being held at the Baptist Church last night by Rev. Albert R. Smith. The meeting last night called forth high praise of the evangelist's talents, both as a preacher and as a leader.

Rev. Smith will address the Sunday school to-morrow and preach to the church both morning and evening. On Monday evening he will give a public lecture at the church, entitled "The Gospel of the Kingdom." In this lecture he will relate how, as the son of the well-known "Gypsy" Smith, he was inspired to go into the Christian ministry.

Rev. E. H. Henshaw will preach to-morrow evening at the Centennial Church the second sermon in his series on "New and Striking Sentations in Washington." His theme for the morning will be "Like the New Birth."

The Pinkham class at Immanuel Church will have their evening lecture on Tuesday at 8 o'clock. The subject is "The Pinkham Class." The lecturer is Dr. Barker, President of the Pinkham class.

"Man in Modern Affairs" is the title of Pastor Hinson V. Howlett's second sermon on "A Man and His Religion," which he will preach at the Second Church to-morrow morning. The evening service will be held at 7 o'clock.

Mason & Hamlin
PIANOS
are the first choice of those who know, and the final choice of those who investigate and compare.

PERCY S. FOSTER
PIANO CO.
FOSTER BUILDING
1330 G Street

Exclusive Washington and Baltimore Representatives.

HAROLD BAUER writes: "Mason & Hamlin pianos are the most superbly beautiful instruments that I know."
